MEDIA RELEASE

May 17th, 2012: TRUNK SALE spots still available

Want to edit your life, and sell off some of your gently used stuff? Then there's still time to register for the 2nd annual Trunk Sale at Okanagan College next weekend.

Organized by the Regional Waste Reduction Office, the Trunk Sale is one huge garage sale in the College parking lot next to the student resident buildings, Saturday May 26th from 8am until noon.

Rae Stewart with the Waste Reduction Office says the event champions reuse and recycling so less ends up in our landfill. "You just wheel your way in, do all the selling from the trunk of your car, van or back of your pickup. It's a great way to get your gently used treasures into the hands of someone else who wants them. And judging from the variety of stuff on hand at last year's sale, it will be a sellers and buyers smorgasbord!"

If you'd like to take part as a vendor at the Trunk Sale, you do need to pre- register beforehand. Deadline for registrations is Wednesday May 23rd. To register, call the Regional Waste Reduction Office at 250.469.6250. (Set up for sellers on the day of the sale will be between 7am and 8am only.)

For those with leftover goods after the Trunk Sale, the Salvation Army, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, and Planet Earth Recycling will also be on hand once the sale is over to accept donations. That way you don't have to load up your vehicle all over again and cart home your merchandise, instead you can donate it to a good cause.

As an added draw, the Trunk Sale is being held in tandem with a giant Garage Sale hosted by Okanagan College. The College sale in the automotive shop adjacent to the Trunk Sale will feature gently used furniture, including desks, chairs, shelves and filing cabinets, plus over 200 computers, printers and monitors. The maximum price for any item in the College garage sale will be $20.

The Trunk Sale and Campus Garage Sale both run from 8am until noon Saturday May 26th at the South Campus of Okanagan College, 1000 KLO Road. It's free for the general public to come shopping on sale day.
